PROFILE

I am young communication and graphic designer full of energy, creativity and ideas ready to turn them into valuable concepts. My background comes from the Art School where I learned principal skills of drawing, painting, sculpture, photography, methods of printing, typography and graphic knowledge. Like to experiment and combine all my skills into eye catching and stunning designs. Open minded, open to people and their suggestions, patient, like to listen, take advise and I am not afraid of failure or criticism. Used to work on multiple projects at once therefore multitasking is a skill I developed and enjoy. Working on projects from beginning until the end is something I like the most however, switching context, helping others and contributing is a great fun especially if overall result is a group success, which motivates me to achieve more. Usually a quiet person, but not too shy to ask for help or stand out on front of a group of people. In my early days of my career I am open to work individually on projects but working within a team and socialise with people could help me learn how to become a true professional fast.

COVER LETTER

I am a talented Graphic Designer who graduated from Visual Communication at the City of Glasgow College. I'm excited and ready to start a career as a Graphic Designer and I'm motivated to discover and explore every possible experience which this role could bring. Art and Design is a direction that gives me great joy and motivates me to develop myself. I am committed to finding a job where I will be satisfied with every task that is given to me. I'm a friendly and helpful person which is ready to work any hours and I am ready to work hard to develop myself and achieve goals.

As a Graphic Designer, I enjoy working in any department in this area. I feel good in the Printing, Visual Editorial, Typography, Brand Identity and Marketing departments such as Web Design, Social Media promotional campaigns and Animation projects too. I am a person who pays attention to details in every project and willing to produce stunning designs. Always very organized, can work under pressure and multitasking is also not a problem. Still looking to find my way and don't want to develop in one specific direction yet. I want to explore and discover where my creativity will fit, with what I will feel best, what would matter for me the most is an opportunity to work on various types of projects

During my college education, I had the opportunity to test myself and work in every topic related to Visual Communication and Graphic Design which I am constantly developing and I am going to do it further through experience. I gained practical and theoretical knowledge in Graphic Design, Visual Communication, Typography, Illustration, Branding, Web Design and Animation projects. The college projects were adapted for the real clients, which taught me how to prepare a project for a typical professional type. Each project took me through an interpretation of the brief and consultation with a client, project planning, preparation of initial proposals, development and final presentation for the client. I have good skills in planning and managing projects and team. I have a good knowledge of Adobe Software, such as Photoshop, Illustrator, InDesign, XD, After Effects, Premier Pro and Acrobat DC. Also, I can handle programs such as Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Publisher, Silhouette Studio and Wordpress. I can work on operating systems such as Windows and MacOS.

I feel I will fit well and adapt to any position which I will be offered. I don't have yet any commercial experience as a Graphic Designer but I am ready to get this chance and opportunity to start my career and provide outstanding work. I am full of energy, a lot of optimism and crazy ideas can handle criticism and I will undergo training and develop my skills at all time.
